

Not had much time to blog over past months as we have been so busy securing numerous tenders for work, some of my staff are out delivering 3 courses a day!

We are thrilled to get through to the finals with WCVA as Thriving Charity. An amazing accolade as the training team is still very small. Requests for services are now expanding throughout West Wales providing high quality workshops to help individuals return to work.

We have also secured funding from the Local Health Board to deliver support to children who cannot access mental health services. CYCA will be working with 7 Llanelli GP practices over the coming year helping children and their families address trauma.

I am off to London next week to attend a Lloyds Foundation summit, focusing the sessions on how charities can act effectively in an increasingly difficult environment, by building relationships which can deliver meaningful change, both inside and outside of our organisations.

Exciting times for CYCA!
